PARIS 1.º.—M. Rouvier stated in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday afternoon that his foreign policy would be firm but prudent. Preparations for the Exhibition of 1889 would be actively pushed forward.

M. Rouvier was frequently applauded by Members of the Centre, and often interrupted by Members of the Left.

M. Jullien made a speech in which he requested the Government to define their programme.

M. Rouvier replied that the Ministry would firmly apply the existing legislation on education. In regard to economy and public expenditure, they proposed to reduce 60,000,000 of francs. He concluded by declaring, amid loud protests from the Left, that the Cabinet relied upon the support of a Republican majority, and that the Government intended that all citizens, even secessionists, should be subjected to the obligations of military service.

ST. PETERSBURG 1.º.—News from Herat says that the Ghilzais have defeated a thousand of the Amers regular troops, and captured five guns with considerable baggage. The commander of the Amers' forces was captured and beheaded.

It adds that the inhabitants of the province of Herat and the adjoining districts are greatly excited over the success of the revolted tribes, and it is stated that they are ready to join the Ghilzais.

PARIS 1.º.—A petition from Nantes signed before the Mayor by 5,000 electors, prays President Grévy to restore General Boulanger to the post of War Minister.

M. Millierand, of the Left, denies that the Cabinet has the support of a Republican majority. M. M. Millierand moved a resolution of want of confidence in the Government, but it was rejected by 285 to 139.

ST. PETERSBURG 1.º.—Telegrams from Merv confirm the statement that English engineers are actively fortifying Herat. The walls and trenches are being strengthened, and a redoubt built to resist artillery.

The Afghans are displaying great hatred to the English, and the Amers has been obliged to appoint military officers to protect the men employed on the work.

The aim of the English authorities is to enable 10,000 men in Herat to withstand a siege of ninety days.

PARIS 1.º.—There was a brilliant assemblage of the military at the fête of the Opera House last night. General Boulanger was absent.

PARIS 1.º.—Ayer tarde en la Cámara de Diputados dijo M. Rouvier que su política exterior sería recular, no progrede, y que los preparativos para la exposición de 1889 se llevarían adelante con actividad.

M. Rouvier habló fuertemente de M. Jullien del centro, e interrumpe muchas veces por lo de la izquierda.

M. Jullien pronunció un discurso injuriando al gobierno republicano.

Contestó M. Rouvier que el gobierno haría aplicar al pie de la letra la actual legislación sobre educación. En cuanto a economías y gastos públicos, se propuso disminuirlos en 60,000,000 de francos. Concluyó declarando, entre fuertes protestas de la izquierda, que el gobierno contaba con el apoyo de la mayoría republicana, y que el gobierno propondría que todos los ciudadanos, aun los secesionistas, fueran obligados al servicio militar.

SAN PETERSBURGO 1.º.—Un telegrama de Herat anuncia que los Ghilzais derrotaron a mil de los tropas de línea del Emperador. Se capturaron cañones y muchos bagajes. Fue hecho prisionero y decapitado el comandante de las fuerzas del Emperador.

PARIS 1.º.—Una solicitud de Nantes firmada por 5,000 electores ante el corregidor, ruega al presidente Grévy que reponga al general Boulanger en su puesto de ministro de guerra.

M. Millierand, de la izquierda, niega que el gabinete tenga el apoyo de la mayoría republicana. M. Rouvier protestó contra la escomunicación republicana de que es objeto, y dijo que entregaría las riendas del gobierno si no lograba obtener el apoyo de la mayoría republicana.

M. Millierand propuso un voto de desconfianza al gobierno que fue rechazado por 285 votos contra 139.

SAN PETERSBURGO 1.º.—Telegrams de Merv confirman la noticia de que los ingenieros ingleses están fortificando a Herat con actividad. Se está haciendo nuevas trincheras, y se construye un redondo para resistir a la artillería.
